England's Prince Charles and Lady Diana were wed on July 29th. The wedding ceremony was beamed by satellite to all corners of the globe. The world looked on as England became a romantic center of interest.

ENGLAND'S PRINCE CHARLES AND LADY DIANA SPENCER in an informal official portrait before the wedding date.

President Reagan ok'd the manufacturing and stock piling of the neutron bomb in the US. Original plans were for emplacement of the bomb in Europe but public opinion was so unfavorable it was impossible.

Reagan also tried to push the sales of AWACS to Saudi Arabia. Many people in the US felt this wouldn't be a good idea as it would give the Saudis' an unfair advantage in the middle east war.

US jets on training manuevers in the Mediteranian Sea near Libya shot down two Libyan fighters after they were attacked. The US sent a communique saying anymore such action would be considered an act of war.

Meanwhile in England rioting was going on unabated. Youths from all walks of life had taken to stoning police, firebombing cars and fighting in the streets. These riots were to focus attention to the high unemployment and crime rates.

El Salvador too, was the scene of violence as killings by leftist guerillas rose to about 20 per day. El Salvadorian officials couldn't cope with the killings because of the rural terrain and lack of manpower.

Mohammed Ali Rajah became Iran's new president and began setting up his government.

The famed Andrea Doria, an ocean liner struck by the steam-ship Stockholm on its way to New York, was found and searched. A safe found aboard the sunkenship is to be opened on live TV sometime next year.

THE NATION

Air traffic controllers walked off the job after PATCO members voted to strike. After several days all participants were fired by President Reagan. Air traffic was hopelessly snarled as a result of the job action. People had to wait for hours and sometimes days to get a flight.

PATCO'S EDWARD POLI discussing air troffic controllers strike with the press.

Ronald Reagan reinstated the Selective Service Act in order to help prepare the nation's defenses. All young men were required to register within 30 days of their 18th birthday or face legal action.

In Kansas City, 113 people died when two walkways over the dance floor at the Hyatt Regency Hotel collapsed. 48 were killed outright while 65 more died from serious injuries sustained in the mishap. Officials blamed shoddy workmanship and overcrowding as the cause.

In Washington, four senators and a congressman were sentenced as a result of the FBI's ABSCAM probe into government payoffs. All were scheduled to be taken to court at a later date.

Ronald Reagan nominated Sandra Day O'Connor as the first woman Justice in the Supreme Court's 109 year history.

The Voyager 2 probe got the closest look ever at Saturn and sent back thousands of new pictures.

THE STATE

The largest threat to the states farming regions came when fertile med flys began to show up in San Juaquin Valley. Governor Jerry Brown originally vetoed aerial spraying of the orchards but met such fierce opposition he was force to reconsider and order the spraying of a malathion pesticide.

State Senator Alan Robbins was taken to court on sex crime charges but was aquitted after almost 2 months of court battles and jury deliberation.

The LA County Board of Supervisors adopted an economy budget which deeply cut into health care for the poor and elderly.

The strangest baseball season on record plagued many sports fans and players alike

Due to the baseball strike that began on June 12th and lasted 59 days, the season was cut in two and didn't end until well after the football season began

The causes of the strike were complicated and negotiations lasted for weeks. The main cause was the free agent policy and compensation for loss of a key plaver. The baseball owners hoped to do away with these rules but the players felt this wouldn't give them any bargaining room

After many weeks of negotiations the players finally decided the only way to have their demands met was to strike

Both leagues walked out on June 12th, leaving ticket-holders and other baseball afficionados with nothing to do for many weeks. When the season resumed in August, both sides of the negotiating table lost ground but the free agency rules remained intact

Working for the weekend

For many, weekends were a time to be tilled with leisure activities. While some preferred would and big parties, offers would rather good at a time travorite guy or girl

The coast along the Penninsula was a popular place for many studies. It is working or some it was a good place to go out and party with friends. Others found the Pellinsula a great spot to be alone with a boutmend or i, rifriend. If like good place to go out and gives me is a boutmend or i, rifriend. If like good place to go out and gives me is a weeken near Marineland, because no one bothers in schools when we're partying," commented in the a chain me a chain.

For those students interested in the silver screen, the movies were a popular once. Even with the rising cost of admission, attendance was high. "I enjoy going to the movies with a large group of friends," said Julie Rodrigues

For some, alot of weekend time was spent working, either at some kind of regular job or just cleaning up around the house for their parents. "I don't mind working on the weekend, because it gives me some extra spending money."

The first soap opera, presented over the air waves was radio's 'Ma Perkins' in 1933 Most of the storylines of that serial revolved around divorces and affairs of the doctors and nurses at a local hospital It took 47 years before a show like 'General Hospital' dared to enter a new dimension in soap opera history

Main characters, Luke and Laura risked their lives as they got involved with the mob. A year later, they saved the human race from a mad man that wanted to freeze the world

Daring to be different payed off for General Hospital' when it was picked the most popular soap opera by several leading fan magazines. The number of young viewers grew so quickly that prime time television released its first night soap. 'Dallas ' It was such a tremen dous but that such shows as 'Flamingo Road', 'Dynasty' and 'Falcon's Crest' soon followed its lead

Businessmen have also shown an interest by investing huge sums of money in the soap opera market. Many soap related products are on sale at department stores. Many people show which soap they watch by wearing 'I Love' buttons. Also on sale are coffee cups, book covers, puzzles, key chains and many other items

No one can explain the sudden rise in soap opera's youthful audience

"I've been watching soaps from the time I was eight. They are not a new interest to me," commented Cynthia Fantov

Whether or not the soap opera craze will disappear as quickly as it arrived is a debatable guestion. Ultimately the viewers will decide

Summer was a time many students looked forward to, for it meant having more time to do things they enjoyed. Many students could be found at the beach getting a tan or surfing. Although surfing was the most popular of thiwater sports, water skiing and wire surfing were enjoyed by many. "I like to water skii as much as I possibly can during the summer," commented Mario Pinel.

Many students had jobs which occupied much of their time. The most common jobs were working at a super market or at a last food restaurant

Concerts were popular during the summer with groups like the Rolling Stones, the Kinks and the Beach Boys making their LA appearances

Royal Palms was a favorite spot enjoyed by many, until the county placed a three dollar charge on parking. A song for you

Music played an important part in many students lives. The sounds of rock punk, country or soul could be heard wherever students were found. Some students enjoyed listening to their favorite songs while hard at work.

"Listening to music while doing my homework makes the time go by faster." commented Monica Mellier

While music tastes varied widely among the student body, one band seemed to be most popular. Journey took top ratings in three categories of a poll taken during January. They 'Captured' best group, best song, (with their smash hit 'Who's Crying Now?'), and best vocalist Steve Perry

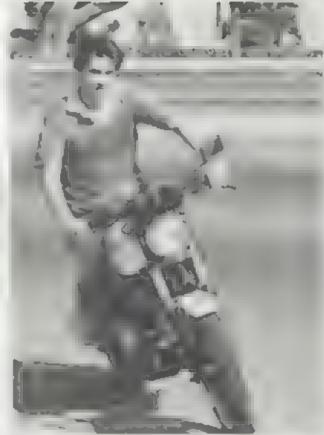

One of the biggest ways students showed their appreciation for their favorite group was by going to concerts "The bands always sound better live." said Chrisie Mattera

As you walked around campus, stickers and buttons could be seen everywhere giving you a good idea what people were listening to

One of the many places students went to buy albums, tapes and cassettes was the Wherehouse. "The Wherehouse always seems to have the record I want and more often than not it was on sale." stated Kathy Huber.

Getting There

Transportation seemed to be a problem in a small community like San Pedro where all the movie theaters and major shopping centers were out of town If you didn't have your own car everytime you wanted to go someplace you had to burn a ride off your friends or mom and dad

But there were times when even your friends couldn't help you out of a jam and you were forced to look elsewhere

When using a car was out of the question, many students used the RTD. mopeds or bicycles. When all else falled, they walked

Students who took the RTD found there were many disadvantages to bus rides Often they were faced with having to leave as much as one hour ahead of schedule. Skyrocketing fares and some times not having a place to sit down, added to the problems. However some students found a bus pass helped to ease the panic of looking for change and they even saved a little money

The one major advantage to taking the bus, most said, was that they could use the extra hour to do their homework

While some took the bus or walked others formed carpools

"Having a carpool was a big help when it came to paying for gas," stated Junior Carol Tedesco. But many times carpools were late because of those who couldn't get ready on time and a little crowded when you had to give a 'friend of a friend' a ride home

Even though, at times, getting from place to place was a hassle, when students really wanted to get somewhere they always seemed to find a way

Monica Mellier

EASY ON THE GAS, easy on the pocketbook Riding a mo ped could not only be fun but it was easy on the cash. People who rode ma-peds found they could easily keep them in the bike rocks

RIDING HIS MOTORCYCLE. Kenny Youngblood finds he can leave traffic problems behind. Motor cycles were not only an economical means of trans portation, but they were a fun form of recreation.

The Winter Ball held off campus, in the Grand Salon of the Queen Mary took place on February 19 The ball was the first dance of the spring semester. Bids went on sale, Feb 8 for $14 per couple plus an additional $6 for pictures to remember the evening by

Many students stayed home the day of the ball for last minute preparations. For girls this meant hair appointments and maybe even a manicure

"I stayed home so I could get some sleep for the long night ahead of me," commented Melinda Temblador

For many, the evening began with dinner at a nice restaurant. After dinner students either went straight to the dance, which started at 9 00 p m, or partied a little with a few good friends

"My date and I rented a room so we could have a party before and after the dance," commented one student who preferred to remain nameless

Upon arrival at the dance, the couples were entertained by the live band "Somethin' Special"

"I think the band played very well," said Martha Flores

There was also a coke bar to provide cool relief from the hot dance floor. The cost was 75¢ per drink

To most surfers at San Pedro High School surfing is a way of life, a chance to get away from the pressures of grow up, responsibility, and being hasseled by parents, teachers and bosses. During school days classes were skipped in hopes treaching favorite surfing spots such as hoya. Palms and others.

"The seven runners ran like seven rate hors is "stated Criss Country Coach Richard Jenssen

"It was team spirit that helped clinch the city title," added Team Captain Anthony Sigala. The team was anchored by the Barrow brothers. Joe and Shawn Joe was lead runner with a time of 17-08 and Shawn behind him by only nine seconds.

The team worked hard all year long at Peck Park with its devasting triple hill which is a track with three rises. The team was in excellent shape for the city finals at Pierce College. The Pirates easily won the race, with the other teams not even coming close.

Strength and pure endurance helped the JV team win the league title. The teams leading runner Severiano Mayorga had a top time of 18-25 in the 3 mile run. "You could tell he was hurting but he kept running and won the race," said. Team Captain John Bechtol.

"Mayorga really improved," stated Coach Jenssen, "I would have placed him on the Varsity team but I couldn't because he had run in the JV finals."

Mayorga was the overall winner in city finals

"A funny thing happened to Mayorga in the city finals. He happened to go the wrong way and he had to back track after four runners passed him, but still managed to win the race." stated Bechtol

"The lack of experience really stopped as from playing well as a team," commented Head Coach Joe Orona

As in most years, the Girl's J V Basketbal, team was primarily composed of sophomores and Juniors who had never played organized basketball before coming to high school

"It's hard to start playing in the Marine League," added Orona, "It's one of the toughest in the state."

The one distinction of the team was the ever present enthusiasm and spirit

"What we lacked in talent we made up for in enthus.asm." said Orona "The game is a lot more enjoyable when every one has a positive attitude "

While not always as crucial as the Varsity team, the experience gained by the J V s was vital for the future "A good J V team is the key to a successful program," concluded Orona

On Again Off Again

With Al.-League performers like Zorar Vuxotich returning at fullback and David Stanovich at halfback, the Professorer tradition was off to a good start. But inconsistant play and injuries plagued the Pirates all season. "One game we would pray really well, but play terrible the next game," said senior Vukotich, who made the transition from All League in footbal to soccer. Along with the fact that the Pirates had their third coach in three years, Tony Scirocco, a knowledgeable but inexperienced coach. These problems caused the Pirates to missing play offs.

The highlight of the season came during the third game of league play—a dominating victory over cross fown r—a Narbonne—"We really dominate—rhops game," commented Eric Nilsen—"A had over 30 shots on goal and rus her ressuring them the whole game

Lack of teamwork

Even after finishing 1—9 in league and 4—10 overall. Head Coach Richard Deemar didn't think the team really had a losing season

"We lost a few close games but had a couple of outstanding individual players," said Deemar

Jamie Vitalich was one of those out standing players. Her fierce spiking ability made her one of the dominating players in the league

"Jamie had the ability to carry the team when it was down." added Deemar

The team was plagued with incorsistancies and an inability to play well as a team all season. "It was tough with only six players on the team," said senior Lunda Korthe

The team started with ten, but four players were forced to leave the squad because of personal problems

The toughest defeat to the team came in a match at Banning. The Pirates railied to win the first game 15—11, but failed to continue their aggressive play.

The Pirates dropped the next two games 13 – 15

As described by their coach Richard Deemar, the girls' JV Volleyball team was strong in spirit but was hurt because of inexperience. 'With inexperience comes a lack of confidence, which hurt us when it came down to the games that counted", explained Deemar.

Pat Rodriquez and Chrisic Mattern were the strong points in the team's offense and defense. At the start of the year the JV team had hopes of making the playoffs, but with a loss to Carson later in the season. Their hopes vanished

Problems

"We had a very talented team, but acked the height needed for a winning season," commented Jack Kordich Kordich, after his second year as Head Coach was running into problems that have plagued Pirate teams of the past

"It's hard to be competitive when you're one of the smallest teams in the league," added Kordich Going against players with the callber of 6'6" Eldridge Hudson of Carson and 6' 4" Gilbert Wilburn of Banning was just one of the problems that faced Pirate cagers. What was supposed to be a year of experienced and outstanding players, turned out to be another year of rebuilding for Kordich

After losing two starters from last year's squad, Graig Johnson to Mary Star and Kenny LeSure to Banning Kordich was left with an inexperienced team. "It really hurt the program losing two key players. We were looking for ward to our most successful season." added Kordich

Aside from continuous problems, the season did have it's bright spots. After transfer Novian Whitsitt took charge as point guard, averaging 22-5 points per game, and a 5-1 record in the pre-season the Pirates were ready for league play. In an exciting league opener against cross town rival Narbonne Whitsitt scored 25 points in a 72-59 victory

With only two returning JV Basketball players, chances for a league champion ship seemed to be very dim in the minds of San Pedro fans and coaches

Glenn Allen and Chris Slanev returned as starting Junior Varsity players. Slaney broke his ankle early in the season and was unable to play for much of the year

Practices were everyday after school from 2 to 5pm. Practices were hard and tested the player's endurance with 1iff cult and strenuous drills designed for conditioning. "Without condition there is no sense in playing," commented assisting coach John Zorotovich.

The team showed a dedication to practice and utilized their time well. Even Tyrone Gatewood, who lived as far away as Los Angeles, managed to attend games and practices. Gatewood was one of many outstanding players on the JV team along with Barry Cunnigan Luther Niles and Glenn Allen.

Earning Credits Early

Although many students chose to have only a few classes and leave school early, some students started preparing early for their future.

Many of these students took part in Advanced Placement or 'AP' classes a special course in which students were able to take college level classes in high

The AP classes were offered in subjects such as Spanish Language 4, American History, Studio Art is logy, English Language, Composition and Literature English Language Composition and Literature were restricted to seniors only

The class taught me a lot of things that will help me for my future in college," commented Katy Hoshida a studen' in Mr. Morrris' AP Biology

After the courses the students were given an exam, and if they passed they received coilege credits for participating

Extra, extra

It's three o'clock and the belirings For many students, this signals the en of the day. But for some students it's only the beginning

Some classes require more than the a.loted 53 minutes to complete the work that they are expected to do

Members of the Band for instance must give up much of their free time in order to prepare for and participate in their many activities Parades, assemblies, competitions and half time shows required alot of extra time but it d.dn't seem to bother those involved

"I didn't mind all the extra practice because I enjoyed what I was doing," said Band member Carol Stoops

Like the band, the Drill Team / Cheer leading class that met 5th and 6th periods spent many hours practicing for their various activities

Although the class period was over at 3PM, members usually had to stay until 4 30 The extra time paid off when the group performed. Their well practiced routines were seen in assemblies. Pep railies and the Annua, Christmas Parade

"I liked performing in the Christmas Parade because the people were fantastic," commented Dr.ll Team member Cathy Manqueros. "They kept cheering and yelling "

Some classes required extra hours on an irregular basis

Whenever dead ne came close " seemed that we practically lived at . " ol," said Yearbook Page Editor Mark Rivera "Somet mes I thought I snound have my man delivered to the classroom

We didn't mind the extra time," added Editor Dina Mayo. "Every extrahour meant a better book for the school "

Members of the Leadership class came in periodically for night meetings but the pace always picked up during the week before a major activity

"Homecoming Week was crazy, " said Sophomore Senator Maria Lauro "There were a to the to do and very attle time to do them "

Leadership was not the only class that ated extra time for Homecoming - 155

"Stage Crew hac come after school and evenings to practice setting up the stage for the half time show," said Crew Foreman Chuck Bell

The Crew was also responsible for evening programs and weekend concerts

I liked coming in on weekends." said Crew Member John Holmes Sometimes we even got paid!"

While most people fought for space on the California shores, three seniors hopped a plane to Waikik. Beach on the island of Oahu. They went to surf the crystal shores of Queens and Populars

Derek Alkonis, Steve Maisner and Chris Stavros never had to pray for a good day because the gods don't know how to create a had wave in Hawa. "Waves came in perfect swells of 3 to 5 feet giving you a ride all the way down the shore," said Steve Maisner.

While on the North Shore they stayed in dormitories at Brigham Young University, and with relatives of Alkonis

They surfed the local spots of First Break, Genigators Hookisua and Goat Island, a spot well known to all the pros At Goat Island they met and spoke with pro surfer Buzzy Kerbox about surfing conditions

"In all, the trip was very successful and alot of fun. The constant surfing really helped us improve our style," commented Stavros. So successful in fact that the guys started immediately planning another trip for this summer, hoping to enlarge the party to six or eight."

Getting a head start

When school started in September, seniors were striving for good grades knowing that college would soon be on the way. For seniors Debbie Kaloper Lance Nakata, Steven Ashford. Laura 5m th, Andy Hunt and Andrew Rah the effort had begun June twenty first. A six week program at the University of California at Santa Barbara enabled them to earn a few extra college credits while gaining the experience of college life.

Attending UCSB required that the students spend much of their summer away from home. Going to the beach retaxing, working and spending time with their friends were some of the things they gave up. "It was definitely worth losing so much of my summer because I gained an excellent experience," commented Debbie Kaloper.

Although the work load was heavy at times, the sextet still had time for leisure. When the students weren't studying they could be found at the beach, on the volleyball court or at the arcade. "My friends and I had pizza binges at the oddest hours," commented Lance. Nakata

The students all agreed that is was a worthwhile and exciting experience

I became a punk rocker because I got tired of the same old thing." He added, "Punk was a way to get out of the same old rock music. Now that I am punk, people stare and make stupid temarks. "A punker can easily be spotted in a crowd, because of their unique way of dress," said Jill Crine. To get this unique way of dress they went to different places. "I usually buy my clothes at Salvation Army. Goodwill or thrift stores," admitted Steve Maisner.

"The hair style is in a class by itself," comments Georgia Louros. There were crops, spikes and mohawks. Some punkers colored their hair. Blue, green, ted and orange were the most common colors.

"I don't think I'll always stay punk." added Steve Maisner. "I have a future That's the only thing bad about other punks, they have no future."

What was once a random collection of graffitti is now a beautiful mural of Hispanic art, thanks to senior Martin Rodriguez Rodriguez spent much of his time this past summer painting the graffitti covered wall of the Teen Post

"Ridding the wall of graffitti and offer ing gang members an alternative to street Violence," were some of the reasons Rodriguez gave for the project

Hoping to finish the mural before school began, Rodriguez started in early summer. With the aid of other teenagers. in the community, he finished the project in late October

"The emphasis of the mural is to stop. Barrio Warfare, * said Rodriguez, adding "I hope it would help unite the gangs in the community and to show people that street gangs can get along without violence *

The mural is a great addition to our downtown community," said Julia Burns Although most students have not yet seen the mural, they all agree it's a lot better than a wall of autographs

'I just hope to graduate'

Seniors had many decisions to make as they approached the end of the semester. In a questionnaire taken in early October, seniors were asked a few questions about their plans for after graduation.

Out of the 422 seniors surveyed, 335 said they planned on continuing their education. 131 seniors planned to attend a junior college, while 141 seniors preferred a four year university. "I am planning to attend med school after graduation," commented Karen Stelle. When asked about other forms of education, 63

those surveyed said they planned to attend a trade school or occupational center

Many of the seniors shared the idea of getting a job. Out of the 422 seniors surveyed, 187 hoped to get a job after graduation. 221 seniors wanted to get a job and attend school at the same time, and 39 seniors planned to attend school at a later date.

When questioned about traveling, 143 of the surveyed seniors wanted to travel around a bit before returning to work or school

Endless boundaries

For most people the sea began and ended at the surface. But for skin divers Ivan Budiselich and John Conetti endless bounderies led from the surface downward and outward to adventure and discovery. "When I first started diving I felt out of place. It was like being an alien on another planet." stated Budiselich

"Floating between kelp beds that dwarf you in size is an exciting experience."

Both Budiselich and Conett have be come involved in spearfishing. In last years machine shop class, homemade Hawanan slings were developed and made by a few students to avoid rising costs of spear guns.

"The most popular diving areas were the coves around the Palos Verdes Peninsula " said Conetti

"Christmas Tree Cove and Malage Cove were the best because of their abundant supply of opal eyes, kelp bass and sheep head," commented Budiselich

With more and more people looking for new and exciting adventures, diving has become one of the most popular and fastest growing sea sports on the South ern California coast

Spirits were late

Halloween fell on a Saturday might yet the Halloween spirit was hardly felt at school on Friday the 30th. Less than a handful of students came in costume. "You don't want to wake up early and dress up it you know everyone else won't," commented Jalie Rodrigues.

The spirit of Halloween entered our souls on Saturday night. The seniors were getting ready for a fun filled night out. The majority of students went to parties, haunted houses, or celebrated with friends. "This was the best Hallo ween because it wasn't on a school night," said Cynthia Fantov

The Class of 82's traditional Color day held on October 23, at the conclusion of Senior Week, could well be described as spirited and enthusiastic. Seniors devoted much time and effort in decorating the cars for the car contest. "It was a lot of work, but coming in first place made it all worth it," commented Margo Monreal and Gary Nilson. With a total of over 125 participants decorating 25 cars, the day was a great success.

Making time for planning

For some people being in Leadership meant giving up too much time and carrying too much responsibility. But for I is a Culling. Debbie Kaloper, Ann Lauro Hector Luna and Bienda Ohara being a senior senator was an honor and a big achievement.

Duties of the senators were to choose a place for the prom, deciding when Senior Week would take place, and planning many of the dances.

Being a senator meant meeting with the rest of the student council everyday during fourth period to discuss upcoming events. "We often met here on our own time," commented Luna.

The five senators worked bard to make it a memorable year for the "Class of 80"."

"All that planning made school more exciting, but it was a lot of hard work." said Ohara, with Calling adding, "It was fun getting our class spirited and representing them."

Before going ahead with plans, senators first had to get things okayed by adviser Jake Kosheba, then through activities coordinator Beverly Chapman

"Although our class is involved in other things, we tend to agree well, when important decisions need to be made," commented Kaloper. With Lauro concluding, "We couldn't have done it with out Mr. Kosheba's help. Thanks Jake!"

Senior jobs: Fun for some

When summer came it meant a time to relax for many students, for others at meant getting a job. Most of the common jobs were working at a fast food restaurant or at a store. A few seniors were able to find jobs working in a doctor's office or even in a health spallike. Mel nala Patino and Patricia Morales.

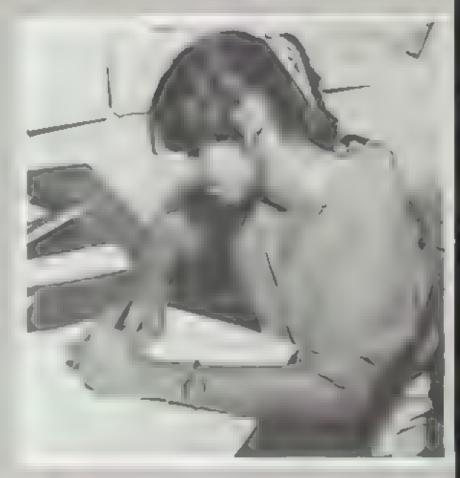

Par no worked in an orthodontist's office and was being trained as an orthodontal assistant by Dr. John Goode. "It's interesting to learn about this field because I'm also a patient. The job is fun and I like the people who work there." commented Me ii Ja Patino.

Incia Morales worked in a health spa and stated. "Thke work because I meet new people and it's fun." Morales did secretarial work and also joined in on some of the workouts at the spa. "The classes are great and it makes me feel good when it... Il over." commented Morales

Everyone wants something to make heir car unique, but without spending tot of money. Why not a personalized cense plate? Fortwenty five dollars you can have something unique and totally your own.

Many license plates have their own pecial story behind them such as senior frish Morales, "Twrish", "My boss ould never pronounce my name correctly aid Morales. She couldn't get herir's but so Trish came out "Twrish", so I got my license plate like that."

Somewhere far away

Last summer many people spent their time at the beach, movies, camping and watching their favorite soaps. Three seniors however, spent their time doing something completely different.

Scott McClintock Lauren Nakano, and Cathy May spent most of their summer in a foreign country. McClintock and Nakano both went to Japan for six weeks. The YMCA foreign exchange program that sent McClintock and Nakano to Japan has been going on for seventeen vers.

They lived with three different families that were also a part of the YMCA in Nagoya. Japan, staying five days with each family. McClintock commented "While I was there I learned to speak and write a little Japanese."

One of the high points of their trip to Japan was climbing to the top of Mt Fugl. "It was very tiring climbing up but when we finally reached the top I felt it was worth the climb," said Nakano.

Kathy May went to Europe for twenty six days. May and her sister Donna traveled together on their trip. May visited France, England Treland, Scot land and Wales. "I liked Ireland the best because the people were so friendly and the country itself is so beautiful." commented May

The dinners in France took at least two and a half hours to eat because they gave you many kinds of hor d'oeuvres. It was all very delicious," said May. "I plan to go back next year alone, but only to Ireland," May said.

Ska's da Limit

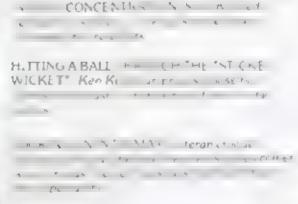

The idea of playing croquet may seem a little odd, but for jumors Scott Kennedy, Mike Mardesich, Alian Freitas, Karl Kolderup, Glen Woodman, Ken Kolderup, Mike Vivian and Andy Burich it was a normal pastime. Influenced by last year's seniors, the group played croquet every Thursday at lunch. "Our style of playing croquet is just total madness," commented Scott Kennedy.

Members of the Second United Croquet Klub had a unique style of dress

Checkered bermudas, argyle socks and sweaters plus ska hats were normal att.re. "At first we got a lot of laughs and we still do, but people are getting used to the way we dress," commented Mike Viv.an

Another pastime of the Klub included listening and dancing to Reggae. Some of their favorite groups were Madness, Bad Manners and The Specials. "Dancing ska and playing croquet aren" t related, they "re just simply two insane things to do," commented Mike Mardesich.

The life of an actor wasn't as easy as it seemed "Being a student and acting in commercials isn't easy." Kenny Guardado commented. Guardado began acting seven years ago when his mother took him to Hollywood to have a photographic portfolio made. Guardado was noticed by an interested agent from Hollywood and began a part time acting career in commercials.

Because of his interest in acting he made a McDonald's commercial, an advertisement for a cereal company and a pizza ad. "Meeting and of new people and working with the camera is what makes my job so fun," Guardado said with a smile.

The actual filming of the commercials took place at a studio in Hollywood Filming a commercial took one day which meant Guardado had to miss school periodically. For each commercial he earned two-hundred and fifty dollars

"Someday I even hope to do a TV show or a movie." commented Guardado Jeannte Manqueros

Whitsitt started playing basketball at age seven with his father. Since then, he has played in several local leagues.

"Every time I play I try to improve my basketball skills," commented Whitsitt

Whitsitt played with the UCLA Basket ball team whenever he had a chance. He also received letters from various universities showing interest in his strength and ability.

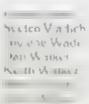

When not on the court he could be found reading, playing the flute or watching television. "I play basketball as a hobby," said the talented Junior. "But I don't intend to make a career out of it." he added

Co-presidents bring Inspirations

As fourth period rolled around, Student Council members began to shuffle into class. Among the crowd were Sophomore Co-presidents Jeff Cruz and Ron Galos c Ready to lead the Sophomore class. Cruz and Galosic brought with them ideas for class colors and name

It had been many years since a class had been ruled by two males

The guys began raising money for their class by selling Gift Check Booklets and planning many other fundraisers

"Having many responsibilities and meeting new people were reali, exciting," commented Galosic "And there were many responsibilities," he added with a chuckle

With the help of the senators, the class colors and name were chosen

"I'm really glad I got to know a lot of the tenth grade students this way." commented Cruz

Both Cruz and Galosic have been in Leadership since junior high school and both planned on running for other offices in their next two years. "I'm not sure what I will run for," said Cruz. "But I hope it will leave me with as many good memories as this did!"

Beauty at its best

"Me a beauty contestant?," exclaimed Jodie Alvarez after being handed a Miss Feen Pageant application from her 9th grade teacher, Mr. Montgomery

The pageant, held in Fresno at the Hacienda Resort Hotel, took place in late September

There were 134 girls in the pageant ranging from fifteen to eighteen years of age Before the pageant, all the girls met for a reception and dinner to get acquainted

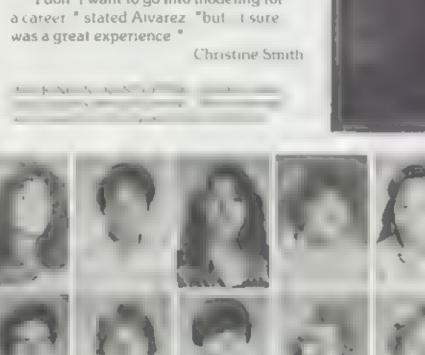

Although Alvarez didn't make the finalists, she gained a great deal of experience

"I was scared because I didn't know anyone," commented Alvarez, "but after I met them I had alot of fun "

All the girls had to participate it sense kind of volunteer work prior to the pageant. Alvarez was a candy striper at San Pedro Peninsula Hospital

As a contestant in the pageant, she modeled evening gowns. The participants were also required to display some sort of talent. Alvarez performed a scene from 'Gone With the Wind' playing Scarlett O'Hara

"I don't want to go into modeling for

Taking it to the top

Professional dancers since the ages of seven and eight, Wendy Berry and Susanne Poetsch have worked their ballet to perfection. Berry and Poetsch took ballet at Stanley Holden Dance Center and practiced three and a half hours everyday. Berry said, "It takes up all my free time but I love ballet and it's worth it."

Berry and Poetsch both started young and now have been working at their ballet for eight years. "It takes at least three years to get on toe shoes because you have to wait till your bones get strong enough to stand," said Poetsch

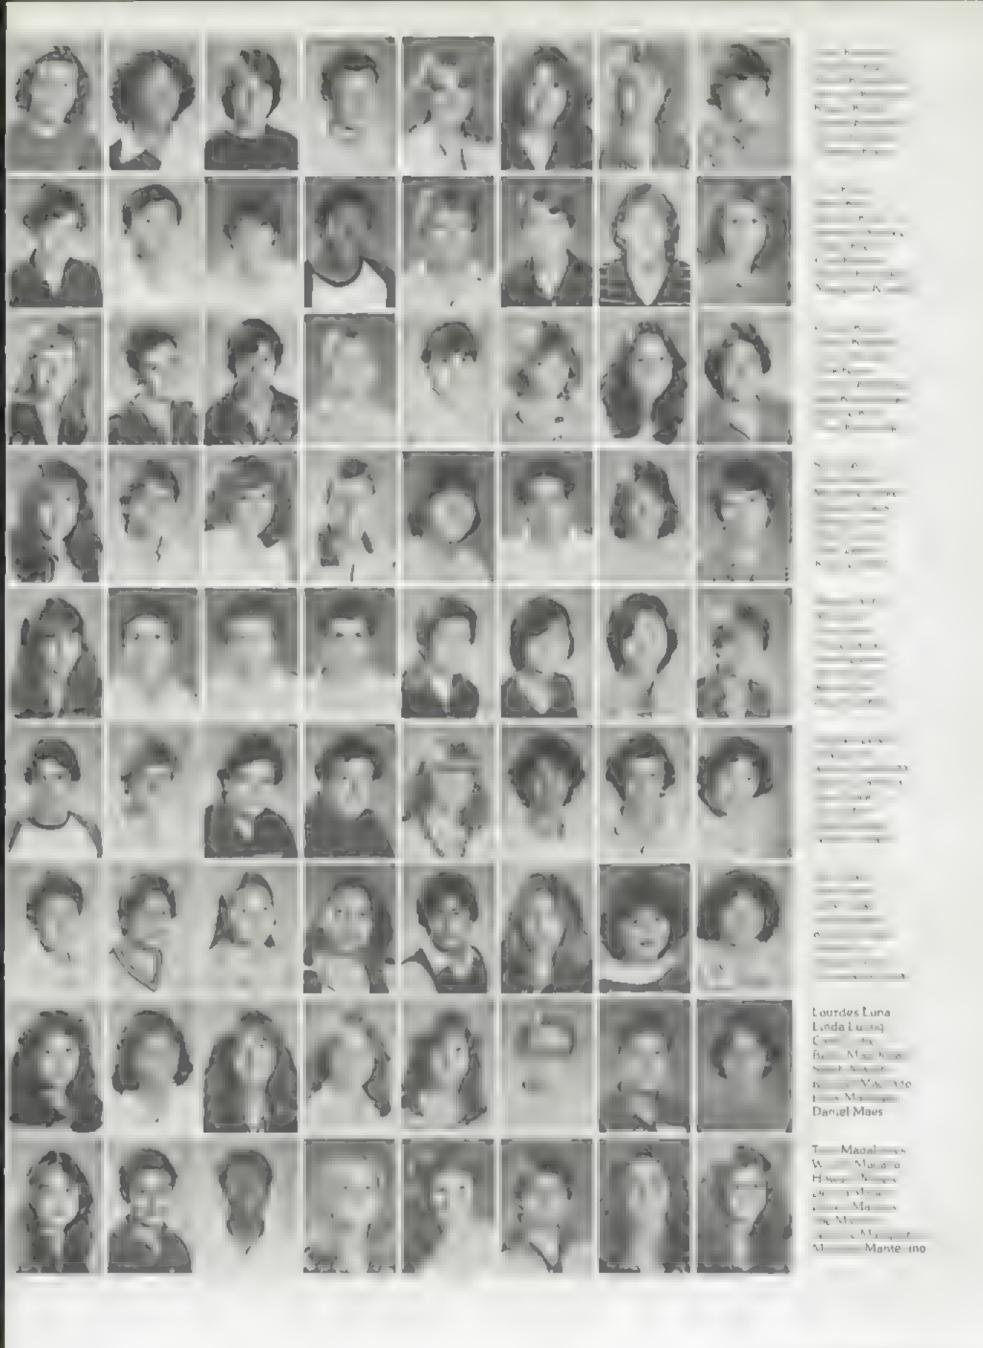

Both girls have been promoted several times to higher classes and attended auditions for summer scholarships. "I would like to work in a dance company as a professional," commented Berry. "So would I," added Poetsch, "I love ballet."

Berry and Poetsch have been friends since they were small and always had a great interest in ballet

Getting the job done

When the tenth graders arrived in eptember, they were a class without eaders. But soon Co presidents and Senstors were elected The five Senators hosen by the class were Katy Hoshida. Jana Lauro, Nikki Pesusich, Martin revino and Linda Babaiko

Coming into Leadership class with only hree-fourths of a semester left, they all orked together to get caught up with the many different activities and met alot thers Having bake sales and selling ift Check Booklets helped to raise noney for their class

"The hardest job was trying to get our lass name and colors done." stated auro "Our main concern was to get the ob done." added Trevino

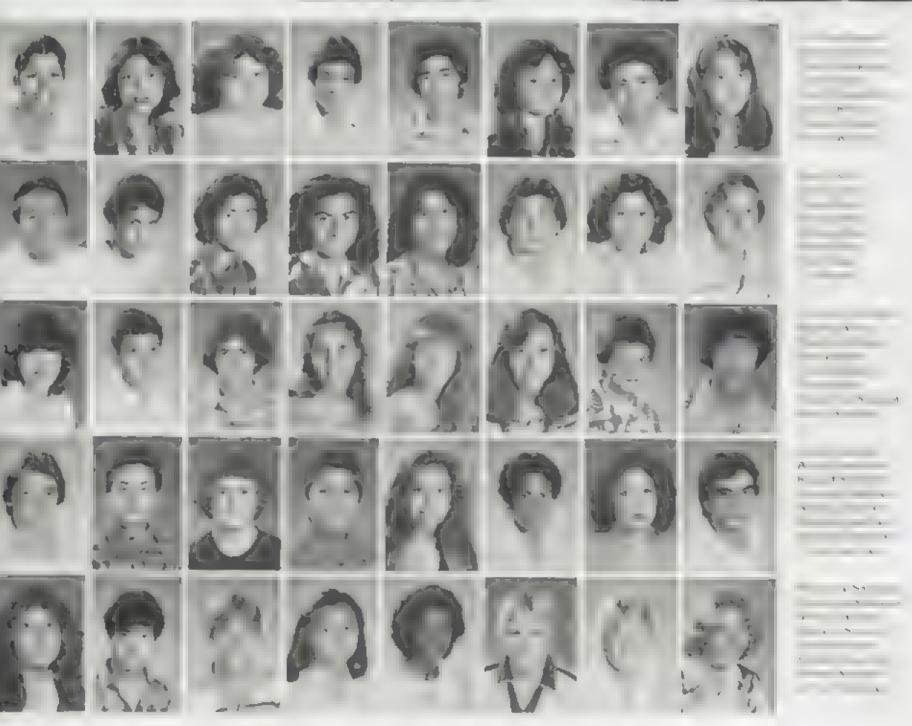

One of their main responsibilities throughout the year was to change the showcase in the administration building Changing the pictures from time to time helped show the sophomore class what was going on at school. They also made posters to help their class with up-coming

"It was fun because we participated in of new people," Katy Hoshida said

Each of the Senators plan to stay leadership and run for other offices in the future

Teachers spice it up

Almost everybody has a hobby. One's interest in a particular field can be a big factor in a person's choice in leisure activities.

The interests of a few teachers at SPHS have taken an unusual twist, and their hobbies reflect it

"I've been playing the drums for over 40 years," said Spanish Teacher Henry Tirado

Although he used to be in the Chuv Reyes Band. I trado is currently playing in the Chuck Edwards Group, of which he has been a member for 15 years

While some interests he in music others find an outlet in sports

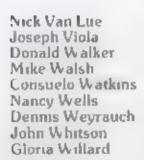

Typing instructor Ben Dolgin is an avid baseball fan. He has collected all sorts of baseball memorabiha for 20 years. His collection includes many books and magazines dating back to 1948. Along with his baseball hats, pennants and ticket stubs. Dolgin also has a few auto graphs of famous players.

Though some may view these hobbies as different, remember, variety is the spice of life

Always a Pirate

While many students worked hard earning credits to graduate and leave school, it seemed that many teachers worked just as hard to return. "It feels as if I have never stopped going to school." said Mis. Bonina Bradonovic Bradonovic was one of the twenty two current teachers that graduated from SPHS and later returned to teach at the inalignment.

Reasons for returning were many at a varied. "I have lived here for many years and still do." said Ms. Evie Hunter Mr. Jerry Garcia said. "It was the only oblopening that they had," but he added that he sure was happy about it because the loves and enjoys his jot.

Some of the alumnia teachers not only returned to their school but they also returned to their favorite subjects an classrooms.

Mr. Phil Buono, who was an Art major and member of Stage Crew, returned to teach both subjects in the same class rooms he attended in 1969.

"It's strange to view the classroom trom the other side of 'i.e teacher's desk " said Buono "It makes me appreciate what my teachers had to go through

"One of my main duties is to get every thing type set in time for deadlines." explained Mrs. Buono

Coming in early in September, she rearned how to use the typesetter after three or four days of instruction from her husband. The machine proved frus trating at first as one of its computer logic boards was not operating.

"Some days I'd be on the verge of tears," commented Mrs. Buono. "I'd type two or three long stories only to find that the machine was malfunctioning and all my work was for nothing." (Unlike a typewriter, the words typed on the type setter are not visible until the entire story is completed.) "The machine has been repaired since then," explained Mrs. Buono. Key Club was on hand to give out retreshments and instructions to the donors. In addition, they helped set aptables and equipment.

Even though Key Club helped the community by being involved in many useful activities such as the blood-mobile drive, they could still get a little out of hand at times the club was put on probation because of antics they performed, such as tying been a sito their float during haif time at the Homecoming game

Despite being on probation, Key Club was resposible for collecting the most cans during the Canned Food Drive herr total was 650 cans

While Key Club seemed to be collect ors of canned goods, blood and the wratt of the administration, they also were have available to distribute a collective telping hand.

With the sound of the official Leader ship gavel, a weekly meeting begins

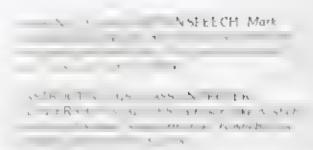

Each Wednesday, a meeting was held to discuss come of the many projects Leadership class was involved in, Secret Pal arrangements, Homecoming, Clean Campus Day, Canned Food Drive, The Winter Bail, Almost Anything Goes and the Talent Show were all Student Council planned activities. "When something came up, we all worked together and thats what made things get moving," stated Ann Lauro, Semor Senator

With the mid year change in Activities Coordinators, (Ms. Beverly Chapman to Ms. Artherlene Adams), Leadership class had another adjustment to make

"Although we were sad to see Ms
Chapman go, Ms. Adams was eager to do her best for us," commented Pub et.

With the raising of the flag at 7.55 am another school day begins. For the Knight and Knightette organizations their service activities began at much the same time.

The two groups represented the most service oriented clubs on campus "Nobody can beat us," commented Knight President Jeff Franklin

Easily identified by their black and gold sweaters, the Knights and Knight ettes could be found involved in most major activities at school

Besides helping to ease the tension of opening day procedures by directing new students and offering registration assistance, the Knights and Knightettes also offered their services as ushers for assemblies and helped in the clean campus drive by painting the flag pole area walls

In addition to serving the school, the two clubs also turned their attentions to the community. Collecting canned food and tous for the benefit of community groups were just two of the many outside activities that they particle pated in Faking in members twice a year, the all-male Knights accepted applications from Seniors in the fall and both Juniors and Seniors in the spring. The Knight ettes accepted applications from Juniors and Seniors during both application periods.

Mightier than the sword

Coming off another CSPA (California Scholastic Press Association) First Place Award year, the 1981-82 Forein Aft staff started off with the hopes of continuing last years quality of design." I knew the editors would work out well especially because we were all friends before we were chosen." commented Coleditor Mark Matthews

But the year started on a bleak note when print shop teacher Robert Ford took a year off for medical reasons. "That really put a damper on us. We had to do our own headlines and get the paper printed locally," Co-editor Jeff Delhis said. "We could' ve put a paper out the first day of school if not for this problem," he added

One major improvement came midway through the first semester when assist ant editor Jim "Mo" Morones swapped his front page duties with Matthews Morones took over the center spread "Mark's innovative front page ideas really set this paper apart. He did the gas I've never seen an editor do before." Morones commented. On the other hand Morones took over a lack lustre part of the paper and livened it up with photos and modern designs.

Rounding out a staff of seasoned writers were veterany lighted Brady and John Wolbers, both of whom were always around when that very last article was needed. "I really don't know what we would have done without either of the two. They were both able to turn in a 300 word article on the spur of the moment."

Considering the problems the Forein

A mast faced with they were still able to print five sales by the semester break. Much of the success was attributed to the editors. Matthews and Dellis. "Those two guys really put alot of extra time in making sure every issue was put out. They deserve recountion for their fine with as leaders and teachers." Morones explained.

A new beginning

When the yearbook staff came back to school there were some new faces and some old. One of the new faces did not belong to a student.

In June, L. Curtis Sheffield stepped down after 8 years as the adviser of the award winning Black & Gold. His position was filled by Phil Buono who officially took the reins in September.

"It was very unusual having a new adviser," said returning staff member Michelle Mores, "because it was like we had to teach Mr. Buono, but then again he was the one that had to teach us."

Part of the staff got together as early as June to begin planning the book. Pages had to be alloted for each section and plans made for senior feature topics

"The early planning was essential to a smooth running staft." said Editor Dina Mayo.

The staff began working on the senior section which was the largest section in the book. Due to the added problems of using full color photography the in experienced staff had to face many difficulties early in the semester.

Despite the odds, the fifty page dead
was met with a week to spare (An achievement the staff had not enjoyed for several years.)

To promote the book sales, the staff organized a yearbook assembly. The multi-media presentation, held in November, let the students know that the yearbook staff 'was watching', and encouraged everyone to buy a book

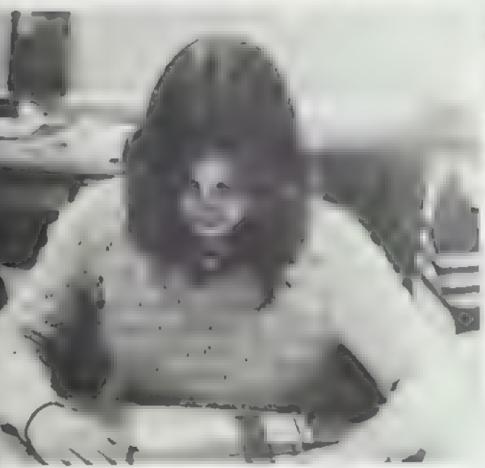

"After seven years of teaching the same subjects. I was nervous about making a change," said Buono. "but after working with this staff I realize that this change was the greatest thing that's happened to me in a long time."

Aside from taking pictures of various school activities, such as sporting events at I dances. Photo Production also raised money for film and new equipment. Students earned money by taking pictures of couples at the winter formal and prom.

"There are alot of different things you do in photo," said Lynn Burich, who is deen in the class for two years

When photographers are not given an assemble general they usually take advantage of the school lab and equipment to experiment with extra film. "The work in the developing room is worth it" said Marc Baroco. "Using special effects for trick photography is really interesting With a little effort you can make almost another a happen."

The Photo Production lab is one of most advanced in the district, having seven color enlargers and sixteen black and white. The advanced lab made it easier to get prints out fast to meet Yearbook and Forein Aftilieadlines ab to prepare photos for entry in several contests. For those students, their many semesters of hard work and effort payed off when they swept the competitions with first, second and honorable mentions.

Community organizations are a vital part of a school's livelyhood Through such organizations, SPHS received much of its financial backing to support various departments and programs. There were two organizations though, that were considered to be SPHS' greatest contributors and supporters, the Pirate Boosters and Lady Boosters

The Pirate Boosters was an organ ization formed to benefit our much needed athletic program through financial aid and good will. The all male Boosters contributed greatly when they sponsored a pancake breakfast held in the school cafeteria in September. Members of both Booster clubs, as well as teachers and administrators helped with the cooking and serving. Proceeds went to aid the athletic department

Lady Boosters, led by President Sandy Radmilovich, was an organization formed to serve the school student body in nonathletic activities. The Lady Boosters have helped SPHS financially by purchasing much needed books and equipment. They have also spent numerous hours aiding the school by volunteering their time to help with year book distribution and sales as well as other activities. In December, the Ladv Boosters sponsored the Homecoming Court in the annual San Pedro Communi ty Christmas Parade The court rode on the Lady Boosters float entry

The Pirate and Lady Boosters have dedicated much of their time and effort to the welfare of our school. This strong dedication was appreciated by faculty and students alike and perhaps explains why these organizations are two of the finest in the community

Compliments of San Pedro High School Yearbook Staff. We hope you like it.

We remember

Mark Anthony

1966-1981

Mark was a real easy-going person who liked to joke around. He was energetic, liked to sing and play tennis & volleyball.

— Bobbie Spivey

Richard Rosado

1963-1982

Richard really loved birds and spent a lot of his time feeding, grooming and training them. His quiet manner and concern for others made him a friend to many.

- Bill Salas

Maria Robello

1966-1982

Maria was respectful and sincere as a student. She was always very polite.

-Robert Stegmiller

Beating the system to the punch

WRAPPING UP LAST MINUTE DETAILS
Principal John Small signs leadership award certificates for Activities Coordinator Jake Kosheba. After 51/2 years of service. Small did much to improve Student Government

Switching assignments in the middle of the school year? Not a common practice for school principals, but never theless, it happened this year!

Principal John Small, after five and a half years of service, chose to switch assignments with the principal of a local junior high school

"Every 5 or 6 years, assignments are changed as a matter of course. I really hated to leave San Pedro High School, but after discussing the situation with Dr. Scharf, we decided to beat the system to the punch. I wanted to control my own destiny." Small said

The new addition to the Pirate family, and replacement for Small, was Dr Robert G. Scharf. Scharf left Wilmington Junior High School and entered San Pedro in the second semester of the school year, with hopes of continuing and improving on Small's accomplishments. These accomplishments included a clean campus, control of student traffic in the halls and the rise in school pride and reputation.

Although each school has its own share of problems, the transition from Wilmington Junior High School to the 'Home of the Pirates' was a chore made easy for Scharf. "I was very impressed my first day by how friendly and well behaved the students were. I didn't know anyone, yet many students took time out to say 'Hi' or even chat with me for a moment." said Scharf

Undoubtably, the trade was beneficial for both men. Small was able to use his experience and qualities at the junior high level, while Scharf was able to take over the reins of San Pedro High

Double change

San Pedro High School. A big step for a beginning administrator, but a wecomed one for replacement Assistant Principal Arthurlene Adams

Adams, coming from Banning High School to replace Beverly Chapman for the second half of the year, felt very much at home here. With the helpful services of Activities Coordinator Jake Kosheba she performed her duties with greater ease. "The knowlege gained through working with Jake has been invaluable." said Adams. "His experience with student activities made decision making much easier for me."

The activities operation is a very intricate system which works smoothly due to the organized efforts of the key people involved. Student Council and the Assist ant Principal have always worked closely together to insure a smooth running and varied activity program. Adams has accilmated herself to the program quite well.

Leaving the spot that Adams filled was Beverly Chapman who began her sabbat ical leave during the mid-year semester change. Having requested the leave for the beginning of the year, Chapman was notified that her request was denied. Not until January did Chapman hear that her request was put through and she would be leaving after all

Planning to spend part of her leave in Wisconsin, Chapman said, "It's beautiful back east during the fall season, but I guess the spring will have to do."

Chapman planned to return to her position as Assistant Principal in the fall

Looking back on the year, one can be thankful and appreciative for the long hours and dedicated work put in by both Mrs. Arthurlene Adams and Miss. Beverly Chapman

1982 Black & Gold

A MESSAGE FROM THE ADVISER— "Have you ever thought of teaching year-book?" When John Small first asked me that question the answer was quite simple No. I hadn't. In the weeks that followed I began to give it a lot of thought.

Having no experience in the field, I sought out reassurance from my friends and relations. Curt Sheffield, who was in the process of giving up the position as adviser to the Black and Gold, was positive I could do it. So was John Calise, a long-time friend and ally. I didn't share their confidence

On the basis of these and other kind words, I made the decision to take on the year-book. So where does a yearbook adviser start? For me, it started as early as May of last year. I began to visit the yearbook class to see what it was all about.

With the help and guidance of Curt Sheffield, Assistant Principal Beverly Chapman, Editor Dina Mayo and Konnie Krislock, our Herff Jones representative, I began planning

The planning continued through the summer and by September, the staff and I were ready

You now hold in your hand the results of our planning, hard work and that fateful question, "Have you ever thought of teaching yearbook?"

John Small and Curt Sheffield, I hope you're not disappointed

The 1982 Black and Gold consists of two sections. This volume is section one and covers events from July 1981 through February 1982. Section two is a supplement containing coverage of spring sports, events and graduation. Volume one was distributed in June and the supplement in September.

The Black and Gold is published by the Yearbook class for the Associated Student Body Candid photography is by students in Photo Production as well

The staff wishes to thank those who gave so much of their time and efforts to help. Sam Mircovich and Tom Thompson made themselves available at any time and often on short notice to shoot photos the staff needed at the last moment. Both spent many nights in the lab producing prints needed for deadlines the following day. Their services were made available to the staff by Thelma Zuanich, who herself made every effort to assist the staff in their endeavors.

to our rescue when events came upon us without warning. On many occasions student photographers would cover activities with as little as one periods notice. A special thanks to those dedicated students.

Ann Buono displayed endless patience when battling with the temperamental typesetting machine. She was always willing to typeset even when half of the copy came in an hour before deadline

Serving in her third year as Herff Jones representative was Konnie Krislock. Konnie always provided an endless supply of ideas to help us along

Yearbooks were sold at a last day sale on November 20 Volume one cost $20 the supplement $5 and optional padded covers $1 extra

She also gave us the incentive to push the yearbook to new horizons

The Fore n Aft staff members were helpful in writing copy blocks. We could always count on them if we needed some extra help

Last but not least there was our year book adviser. Phil Buono spent endless hours of his own time after school and on weekends working with staff members and helping us meet our deadlines. He was a full time adviser, friend and Psychiatrist to us. Thank you Phil, for everything!

COVER: Just as the setting of the sun measures a day, events measure our lives. No day goes by without happenings that effect us.
